Professional Summary

With over 15 years of deep expertise bridging hands-on graphic design and user-centric UX strategy, I leverage a strong command of modern AI tools to accelerate creative workflows, scale digital production, and enhance design precision. As an Associate Design Manager at EY, I combine strategic vision with advanced AI tools to boost design velocity, elevate visual quality, and deliver high-impact digital experiences.

My background goes far beyond traditional UX; it bridges strategic design management, enterprise UX architecture, and AI-powered product efficiency across global tech, FMCG, and consulting sectors. Whether establishing design systems, streamlining cross-functional workflows, or leveraging cutting-edge AI tools to elevate delivery velocity, I operate as a strategic partner dedicated to scalability, precision, and business ROI.
